Penn Cage is a young man searching for his place in the world. He has grown up in the South, but he has never felt truly at home there. He is drawn to the region's rich history and culture, but he is also repelled by its racism and violence. When Penn meets a young black woman named Sarah, he begins to see the South in a new light. Sarah is strong, intelligent, and beautiful, and she challenges Penn's assumptions about race and class. As Penn and Sarah's relationship develops, Penn begins to question his own beliefs and values.
