The Gatsby Kids are back in their second adventure, and this time they're headed to Egypt to find the lost Queen of the Nile. The Nile River, pyramids, pharaohs, and mummies are among the sights the Gatsby Kids encounter on their exciting journey.

Jack, Maddie, and Sam Gatsby are siblings who love to explore. They live in a big old house with their parents and their dog, Sparky. They're always inventing adventures, and they're constantly getting into trouble.

One day, the Gatsby Kids are playing in the backyard when they find a strange old map. It's a map of Egypt, and it has a big red X marked on it. The kids are curious, so they decide to follow the map and see where it leads.

The Gatsby Kids pack their bags and head to Egypt. They arrive in Cairo and start exploring the city. They visit the pyramids and the Sphinx, and they even take a ride on a camel. But all the while, they keep their eyes peeled for the lost Queen of the Nile.

The Gatsby Kids finally find the Queen of the Nile in a hidden tomb. She's been trapped there for centuries, and she's very grateful to the kids for finding her. The kids help the Queen escape from the tomb, and she gives them a magical gift: the ability to talk to animals.

The Gatsby Kids use their new gift to help them find their way back home. They talk to a bird that tells them which way to go, and they even talk to a snake that helps them cross a river.

The Gatsby Kids finally make it back home, and they're greeted as heroes by their parents and Sparky. They tell their parents all about their adventure, and their parents are very proud of them.

The Gatsby Kids are glad to be home, but they know that they'll never forget their adventure in Egypt. They've made new friends, learned new things, and had a lot of fun. And they can't wait to see what their next adventure will be.
